

STILLWATER MESSENGER.

A. J. VAN VORHES, EDITOR

STILLWATER:

Tuesday, April 7, 1863.

SETTLE UP! SETTLE UP!

As we expect in a few weeks to enter the Government service, a settlement of all outstanding accounts with the MESSENGER OFFICE is absolutely indispensable. SETTLEMENT MUST BE MADE AT ONCE. Those at a distance must remit immediately. The MESSENGER will continue to hereafter, but outstanding accounts must be adjusted at once. This call is imperative.

UP WITH THE FLAG!

CHEERING NEWS.

CHARLESTON CAVED!

Telegraphic reports to-day, through rebel sources, announce the capture of Charleston. If this prove true, all loyal hearts should thank God and take fresh courage.

Copperheadism in Connecticut is wiped out! Thank God again! Three Union men, out of the four, are elected to Congress. Buckingham is elected over Vallandigham Seymour by 3,000 majority.

Indiana, Michigan and Massachusetts echo back the same glorious results.— That's God again!

"Bright o'er the hills down the day-star of gladness, Arise! for the night of our sorrow is o'er!"

The City Election To-Day.

Until yesterday, our people have felt but little interest in our city election.

The general disposition among loyal men was to make selections of good men for various offices, irrespective of party; but the ruling passion of Democracy for spoils and place will always be strong even in death, and yesterday, at a late hour, a call was issued for a straight Democratic caucus for the purpose of making nominations.

All propositions of the Republicans for a union ticket were rejected, and the chairman of their committee and one or two others fixed up the following ticket, which is being extensively voted as we press, viz.: Mayor, David Brown; Councilmen, Socrates Nelson, Stimson, and James S. Davis; City Attorney, E. Thompson; City Treasurer, Johnson; City Assessor, Williams; Justices, No number; Commissioner of Internal Revenue, John C. Chisholm and John C.

may be elected, as the election of our citizens are of the degree of the 7. C. last Saturday evening. If done, though subsequently there will be a new vote.

—A late Montgomery Advertiser contains a pathetic appeal from Yancy, Clay, Curry and the rebel Congressmen of Alabama, to plant corn and raise hogs and beef. They say that the raising of a large quantity of provisions this year for the supply of the army and support of the people has become manifestly the duty of every citizen.

A Good Job.—The great Loyal National League is to be inaugurated by a grand mass meeting in Union Square, New York, on the anniversary of the attack on Fort Sumter. Would it not be well to hold meetings in all our chief cities and villages on the same day for the same purpose?

The News.

We have no fully authentic details as yet from the Lower Mississippi mystery. The rumors are still in conflict as to the situation on the Yazoo, the state of affairs at Haines' Bluff, Greenwood and below Vicksburg. One thing seems certain, that the rebels hold their own, and reports of their evacuation will be received hereafter with far more of mis-trust.

From Kentucky we have something clear, sharp and definite. The rebels have been driven out helter skelter, and faster than they came, and the door will be barred behind them this time securely. The victory of Gen. Gilmore at Somerset was brilliant and complete, and the rebels fled a broken rabble across the river in such haste that many of them were drowned.

Gen. Burnside is at Lexington. The war will be pushed with vigor in his department, and the infamy of Don Carlos Buell will be doubly branded by the comparison afforded between a commander determined to end the war, and a commander only determined not to hurt the rebels.

The people will see an eminent and excellent prosperity in the appointment of the honorably discharged officers and soldiers in this war to positions under the Conscription act. The Copperheads will stand a poor chance for sympathy and connivance, with the veterans who have seen the rebels in the field and know they must be put down with steel and lead.

The President has issued a proclamation for a day of National Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer, to that purpose, assigning Thursday, April 30th.

—The vote on the New State Constitution of West Virginia was taken on Friday last, with the result very generally anticipated. In Wheeling there were 1,375 votes for ratification, and only three opposed. The Willey amendment, as it is called, which is ratified by this vote and rendered part of the Constitution, declares that the children of slaves born within the limits of this State after the fourth day of July, 1863, shall be free; and all slaves within the said State who shall within the time before shall be under the age of ten years, shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty-one years; and all slaves over ten and under the age of twenty-one years shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty-five years, and no slave shall be permitted to come into the State for permanent residence therein.

THE REBELS KNOW THEM.—The rebels seem to know the Northern traitors like a book, in witness of which fact we publish the following extract from a Richmond correspondence of the Mobile Advertiser:

Deserters from the Federal army come in almost daily, bringing the same story—their unwillingness to fight under the Emancipation Proclamation. Cowardice, I believe, is generally at the bottom of their conscientious scruples!

—A meeting of the publishers of all the newspapers west of the Alleghenies is contemplated, to take into consideration matters pertaining to their interests. It will probably be called at St. Louis or Chicago.

—On his death-bed Gen. Sumner expressed a feeling of regret that he had not entered into the thickest of the fight at Fredericksburg, so that he could have died on the battle-field. A short time before he died a few drops of wine were given him to revive him, when seized the glass and waving it above the pillow exclaimed, "God save my country, the United States of America!"

—The Richmond Examiner apprehends serious trouble from the fact that the Southern railroads are fast wearing out. In Virginia the running has been reduced to ten miles an hour. The sweeping enforcement of the conscription law has deprived the railroads of the laborers absolutely needed in order to keep them in repair.

—A late Montgomery Advertiser contains a pathetic appeal from Yancy, Clay, Curry and the rebel Congressmen of Alabama, to plant corn and raise hogs and beef. They say that the raising of a large quantity of provisions this year for the supply of the army and support of the people has become manifestly the duty of every citizen.

A Good Job.—The great Loyal National League is to be inaugurated by a grand mass meeting in Union Square, New York, on the anniversary of the attack on Fort Sumter. Would it not be well to hold meetings in all our chief cities and villages on the same day for the same purpose?

From the Upper Mississippi.

FOR RIPLEY, March 30.

Editor Messenger: The first month of spring has nearly passed, but the cold winter weather still clings to us with a tenacity that shows a dislike to give way to the milder reign of spring. The snow, however, has nearly disappeared on the open land, and the ice in the river is slowly breaking up. But remain here as long as we may, we shall probably not see the "first boat" this season.

Everything in the military line remains quiet from the Upper Mississippi—no heavy commanding heard in the distance, nor there "an engagement expected in a few days." Government, however, is making the defense and safety of this place easier and more secure, by building two new block houses, which, when completed, and the stockade extended around the new quarters which were built last fall and winter, this place will be held by a small force against any which the pagans can send.

Time has passed away very quietly here during the winter, and it would have seemed very dull if it had not been for the men constantly going and coming from furlough, and the changing of companies. When companies C and D arrived here last November, E, F and K, and a part of A were here. F arrived soon after. At the same time K, which was mounted, was ordered up the Sauk river on the Abercrombie road, and D was ordered soon after to the same vicinity. Soon after F was ordered to Princeton, on Ram river. A, which was stationed at the Agency, 12 miles above here, a short time since was ordered here and company I has taken its place.

I said that time had passed away quietly, but once in a while some little occurrence would take place to break the monotony of a garrison life. During the winter the colors-lines about the garrison would sometimes be relieved of females under clothing. Guards were sent out to search the Indian tents in the neighborhood, but without gaining any knowledge of the clothes or the thief. But about four weeks since, the clothes were found in the possession of a man belonging to a company not raised on the St. Croix. He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to be marched around the parade ground dressed in the clothes he had stolen, and ten days' solitary confinement. His appearance caused much amusement, dressed in a lady's chemise and skirt, followed by the band playing the "Rogue's March." It seems the man was the only one that leaped the logs. Three of the horses and riders fell in a heap in going over the logs; none were hurt, all got up, riders mounted and on they went. No more accidents than heat. Gen. Meagher's horse was the first to have leaped the heat. In about half an hour all started again. Some of the horses would run around the logs and ditches, so won the first heat.

Half a mile, sole request was that he might be put into active service. He made no objections to going anywhere, doing anything. And this poor boy of 18 was permitted to use the sword the country had given him, what a Republican Administration, once represented to John C. Fremont.

The statement that this refusal was mainly if not entirely due to General Halleck's bitter hostility, is probably correct. It rests at any rate upon less authority than the explicit assertion of the Secretary of War, Mr. Stanton, who said he was in favor of giving General Fremont a certain work to do. The President is known to have favored it. Mr. Stanton says distinctly it would have been done but for the opposition of General Halleck.

This seems positive enough, and whether General Halleck can clear himself or not, it effectively narrows the matter down to two men—the Commander-in-Chief and the Secretary of War. The fact is worth remembering.

For the rest, nobody knows why Fremont should not be granted the earnest request he has so long preferring—to be permitted to fight somewhere in this war. His campaign in Virginia was confessedly a success, and a model of energy and endurance. On the back of driving Jackson's corps of field, he was first on easily invaded by putting up an army of energy, and then banished the service. No such treatment was meted out to Summer, Heintzelman and Burnside under even less favorable circumstances. Is Fremont so much more inimical to this Administration than they are?

Death of Gen. Cooper.

Brigadier General James Cooper, commandant at Camp Chase, Columbus, Ohio, died in that city on Saturday last, after a short illness.

Gen. C. was born in Frederick county, Maryland, Feb. 1810, and after graduation in Washington College, Pa., in 1831, commenced the study of law with Hon. Thos. Stevens, at Lancaster. He was admitted to the bar in 1834, was a representative from Pennsylvania in Congress, 1838-40, was a member of the State Legislature from 1844 to 1846, intruding and carrying through in the face of a desperate opposition, measures to relieve the credit of the State, and have been a member of the Senate, and nearly all, the Major-Generals, Brigadiers, Colonels and all grades of officers were on hand to witness the performances. Gen. Hooker was present.

Third Minnesota Light Battery and its Commander.

Capt. John Jones, and Lieut. Whipple of Faribault, and Lieut. Hendricks, of St. Paul, are recruiting for the Third Minnesota Light Battery, which will be attached to the expedition soon to start for the Indian country. We desire to say a word of this time, particularly, in behalf of Capt. Jones, who has been commissioned by Gen. Halleck as Captain of this battery.

He was until recently Ordnance Sergeant of the United States Army, and stationed at Fort Ridgely, and by a special order of the Department was honorably discharged from the service in 1855, when he was appointed Ordnance Sergeant, a position conferred only upon those whose bony is their bony, and whose joy is in lager beer. If there are any such in the service, they are welcome to take this to themselves; if not, they know the penalty for taking what does not belong to them.

While the soldiers can not wish to justify any crime, they do not wish to see punishment coupled with barbarity, and as the health of the soldier is in the surgeon's care his qualification and habits are of the utmost importance to him.

Among the many appointments made it is not surprising that there should be some who are good bony, and whose joy is in lager beer. If there are any such in the service, they are welcome to take this to themselves; if not, they know the penalty for taking what does not belong to them.

He served in the Light Artillery during the Mexican war, and bore from the field honorable scars and marks of his bony name.

All Minnesotans know how much is done for the safety of Fort Ridgely. Our citizens who sought refuge there during the dark days of the Sioux massacre are witness to his great judgement and skill as an Artillerist.

His battery should be filled in a day, and we are sure that were his merits and services brought before the public, as they richly deserve, that our young men would never hesitate to engage with a gentleman every way competent to lead them, and so much is so much of a soldier as to be unwilling to assume from others honors not his own.—St. Paul Pioneer.

The Secretary of War has issued an order allowing Governor Nye to take to Nevada, which borders Utah, a thousand stand of arms, three howitzers, and three regiments of infantry, and a large number of cavalry accoutrements.

—Rev. Henry Shuler, pastor of the Little Elkhart church, in Middlebury township, Indiana, has been guilty of writing letters to the soldiers against the war, urging them to desert, &c., wherein the trustees of the church have closed its doors against him.

The Land Office at Henderson in this State has been abolished by the Secretary of the Interior.

A Good Job.—The great Loyal National League is to be inaugurated by a grand mass meeting in Union Square, New York, on the anniversary of the attack on Fort Sumter.

Sports in the Potowmac Army.

We have been permitted to make a few extracts from a private letter written by Dr. Pugsley, Assistant Surgeon of the Minnesota First, to his family in this place, showing how Meagher's Brigade celebrated St. Patrick's day. The writer says:

"We had a great time here yesterday. The Irish soldiers, Gen. Meagher at the head, had notified the Army of the Potowmac that St. Patrick's Day would be celebrated by having a hurdle race. Two hundred dollars, more or less, was donated by the officers of his (Meagher's) Brigade, and I presume some others. A circular track was prepared of about one mile. What I supposed to be hurdles were logs piled about five feet high on the track; there were four or five of them, besides as many ditches, six and eight feet wide. The hurdles and ditches were to be leaped by horses with riders. Any one was privileged to enter a horse of charge. If all the horses leaped the hurdles and ditches, the one that came out ahead two beats of three was the winner. The horse that failed in leaping, no matter if he came out first, could not win. That was the programme, as near as I can give it. Well, about 10 A. M., which was the time appointed for performances to begin, the officers and soldiers, on foot, horseback, in wagons and ambulances, must have numbered seven or eight hundred. Quite a number of ladies also were present. Eight or ten horses were entered. The band played a few tunes, horses and riders all ready; bugle sounded, and all started. About one hundred yards from the stand or starting point was the first hurdle or pile of logs. Three of the horses and riders fell in a heap in going over the logs; none were hurt, all got up, riders mounted and on they went. No more accidents than heat. That resolution was adopted by a large majority in both branches. It is explicit. It sets forth a principle and a purpose that no man can mistake. It has a sterling ring. The country sees at once there is nothing spurious in that loyalty. There are no qualifications, no disclaimers, no protests. It is whole-some. It bespeaks a State in dead earnest—a State that is steadfast in its convictions, unfaltering in its devotion, indomitable in its spirit. That resolution in this crisis of the struggle, is a grand thing for Ohio. It will hereafter be the proudest of all her titles to honor. It ought to stand golden letters, on the front of her noble capital, an imperishable monument of her fidelity.

This resolution was adopted by a large majority in both branches. It is explicit. It sets forth a principle and a purpose that no man can mistake. It has a sterling ring. The country sees at once there is nothing spurious in that loyalty.

It bespeaks a State in dead earnest—a State that is steadfast in its convictions, unfaltering in its devotion, indomitable in its spirit.

And thus it is with the soul. No logic can put out these devout aspirations.

No philosophy can drive them forth.

But let God's sweet, persuading sun rest on us awhile and they come up and blossom. The soul is the garden of the Lord.

Fremont's Anxiety for Service.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette thus succinctly states the particulars of the last refusal of the Government to allow Major General Fremont to take part in the war for the Union:

Local and Miscellaneous Intelligence.

EMPLOYMENT! (674)

AGENTS WANTED.

We will take from $1000 to $10,000, and all expenses paid, agent or give a commission. Particulars sent free. Address East Service MACHINERY CO., Part B. JAMES, General Agent, Milan, Ohio. '64.

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT — IMPORTANT TO MILLERS. A partner with a cash capital of $10,000, is wanted to engage in the milling business in one of the best wheat-growing counties of Minnesota. The location is on the finest stream in the State. The stream never fails and never freezes, being fed by warm springs, and the power abundant for any purposes. There are two falls—one of ten and the other of twenty-three feet—the former being improved with a dam and a small water mill with two run of Burrs. Connected with the premises is a hundred acres of land through which the stream runs and has its source, one hundred of which is the finest meadow land in the State. The premises are within one mile of a navigable stream, affording steamboat and railroad access to all the markets of the country.

We know of no better investment in the country. The proprietor desires a partner to take charge of the active business of the concern, with reference to the construction of a new mill to meet the growing demands of the country.

Reference is made to the editor of this paper, at Stillwater, Minnesota, to whom communications can be addressed for further particulars.

POTATOES.—There is quite an active demand for potatoes in market at this time for Southern markets. They now command 55 cents per bushel, cash.

FIRST ARRIVAL.—The steamer Enterprise, Capt. Knapp, broke loose from her winter quarters two miles below the city and came up yesterday morning, the 6th. She left during the afternoon for Taylor Falls. After making a few repairs, which will occupy two or three days, the Enterprise will make daily trips between the falls and this city until the Lake opens, when she will go into the Present, Stillwater and Taylor Falls trade.

We are happy to note the evidences of prosperity and improvement in Stillwater. Real Estate is changing hands at prices better than anything we have known since 1857. A marked feature and a favorable one, is that nearly all the purchases have been made by permanent residents, and are intended for improvement or for permanent investment.

NATIONALITY.—The ice, at this point, has moved from the head of the Lake down about two miles, giving us the privilege of looking out upon waves and ripples instead of solid ice. From present appearance it will yet require eight or ten days to sufficiently soften the ice to admit of the passage of boats through Lake St. Croix. Lake Pepin will not open before that time.

LATER.—The steamer Keokuk arrived at the levee in St. Paul at 11 o'clock on Sunday night last, the 5th inst., the first "through boat" of the season.

Lumber—Looking Up.

At no time during the past four years have the prospects of lumbermen looked more cheering than now. Instead of running logs to market below to find purchasers, dealers are now coming here to solicit purchases. We learn that during the past week over thirty-five millions of feet have changed hands in this city. Contracts have been made for logs rafted in Lake St. Croix at prices ranging from $6.50 to $8.00 per thousand feet. We congratulate lumbermen upon this happy change.

DISTRICT COURT.

The spring term of the District Court for Washington county will commence in this city next Tuesday, the 14th instant. The following persons are the Jurors:

Grand Jurors.—W. H. E. Guernsey, James Anderson, M. S. Willard, Z. H. Foss, Andrew Mackay, Wm. Allibone, Rudolph Asbeck, W. T. Boutwell, John E. Moyer, Ass. Parker, Elihu Brown, J. E. McKusick, Wm. Zass, P. F. Gage, John Parker, Reuben Smith, Julius Brunswick, R. H. Bennett, Porter E. Walker, Stephen Benton, Hiram Berkey, F. H. Getchell, Wm. Thorne, Peter P. Smith, Samuel Somers, Hugh Campbell, Wm. Armstrong, David Prentiss, G. M. Estabrook, R. H. Sanderson, J. M. Darrah, E. Daggott, J. A. DeCurtins, James Middleton, J. H. Sawyer, E. W. Durant, H. B. Beach, R. R. Davis, Wm. Soule, John Tanner, Henry Belden, B. F. Otis, Wm. Rutherford, S. D. Denton, Jonathan Huntley, Leonard Clark, J. M. Jackson, Oliver Parsons, Frederick Rout, Jess Soule, E. Cooley, O. H. Blair, Ebenezer Ayers, W. W. Rutherford, Dana P. Lyman, W. C. Pennington, Wm. Webster, E. G. Gray, H. F. Book.

On and after the 1st of July next, all letters must be prepaid in full. Heretofore, many letters have been forwarded, when, through mistake, the amount of postage stamps placed upon them has been insufficient, the deficiency being collected before delivery. Handwritten such letters will be detained, and not forwarded.

The Copperheads of Saint Paul have nominated East Warner for Mayor. The Union men have nominated that prince of good fellows, Dr. J. H. Stewart, for the same office. Copper is plenty in St. Paul and we fear the hairy man will win. The election comes off to-day.

Concert of Vocal Music—Rich Entertainment.

We have the pleasure of announcing that Prof. E. A. Perkins, assisted by a quartette of amateurs, will give a concert of vocal music at the Myrtle Street Church next Tuesday evening, the 14th inst. Prof. Perkins has taught three terms in this city during the past year, and has established a high reputation as an instructor and composer. The part assisting him on this occasion are all vocalists of acknowledged merit, and from what we have heard at their rehearsals, we feel confident in assuring our citizens that this will prove the finest musical entertainment yet given in this city. Prof. Perkins merits the confidence and patronage of our citizens, and as the concert is for his benefit, we hope to see a crowded house. The programme embraces the most popular pieces of the times; a few of them are original, and will be heard for the first time on this occasion—a portion of which we give below:

Sparkling Little Fountain. Quartette. Ha! ha! we've stemmed the stream. Solo and Chorus. Day of Liberty's Coming. Song & Chorus. What are the Wild Waves Saying? Due and Quartette. Brave Boys are They. Song and Chorus. My Mountain Home. Solo with Vocal Accompaniment. The Grave Digger. Tenor Solo. My Husband's Days. Bass Song. Tribute to Eliza. Solo and Quartette. Come, Fairies All. Quartette. The Recruits. Solo. The Messenger Bird. Duet. Battle-Cry of Freedom. Song and Chorus. I'm Afraid I'm Afraid. Solo. We'll go down ourselves. Song & Chorus. As Free, as Free. Quartette. Anti Tobacco. Chorus. The Vacant Chair. Solo and Chorus. Money's A'ful Tight. Duet. Song of the Mountain Boy. Solo.

Tickets, 25 cents. A gentleman and two ladies, 50 cents. Children, accompanied by their parents, admitted free.

POKE-PACKING—STILLWATER VS. ST. PAUL.—It is but a few years since all our meats were imported from eastern and southern markets, and did not the past three years did the most sanguine of our citizens expect Minnesota to become a pork exporting State. Could the amount packed during the past season be ascertained, the statistics would form an interesting illustration of the rapid development of the productive interests of our State. The St. Paul Press of late date furnishes its readers with a statement of the amount cut and packed in that city by different dealers, from which we make a few extracts, as follows:

Lamb & Pork..... 1,005 hogs Miller, Seager & Hoy..... 365 H. Morin..... 406 Colter & Ford..... 500 " Other dealers..... 628

The term "other dealers" is used to denote collectively a number of grocers and boarding house keepers who have packed from 12 to 30 hogs each for their own use. There are probably some of this latter class whom we have not included in the list, and will no doubt bring up the number of hogs cut and packed to over 3,000.

The average weight of the hogs packed this winter is reported by the various dealers severally as 245, 194, 192, and 209, making a general average of 212 lbs., thus showing the total weight of pork packed this winter to be about 657,900 lbs., making in all nearly 1,000 barrels.

The average price paid per pound, dressed, 8-1/2¢, or in round numbers, 53 cents making $21,600.00, or the price paid for the bacon of this weight, 10-1/2¢, per pound, making $22,800.00.

The amount of lard rendered by all the packers was 58,735 lbs., or about 223 hogs, of 224 lbs. each. The average yield of lard from each hog is about 17.1 lbs., equal to about one-eleventh, or nine per cent, of dressed weight.

The Press gives some other interesting statistics of the rise and progress of the pork-packing business of St. Paul, but our design being, more particularly, to show the fact that our sister city has no advantage over Stillwater in this branch of trade. Messrs. Seymour & Webster, contractors for the State Prison labor, and extensive manufacturers of cooperage, have furnished us with a list of their scales of barrels to the packers in the city between the opening and close of the present season, as follows:

NUMBER OF BARRELS SOLD TO
Hersey, Staples & Hall, 650
Armstrong & Cover, 45
Julius Brunswick, 40
Westing & Torina, 60

Total, 1,058 Making over fifty barrels more than was packed in St. Paul. This amount does not include the number sold to "other dealers," which would swell the aggregate to over eleven hundred barrels.

There is one other item in the Press article which, in justice to our city and its manufacturers, should be placed right on the record. We quote:

"Some difficulty was experienced the past two seasons by our dealers in procuring good barrels to pack their pork. That difficulty, we are glad to say, is being obviated. The market has been tolerably well supplied with packing barrels the past winter, at an average price of 14¢ per barrel, the load, and for No. 2, or $1.30-$1.35. The No. 1, best seasoned barrels, we regret to say, are of Wisconsin manufacture and are imported here from counties adjoining the St. Croix and Mississippi rivers. Our Minnesota Cooperers should remedy this as soon as possible."

The Press no doubt was inadvertently led into the error contained in the above statement. The truth is, the "St. Croix" barrels alluded to were not of Wisconsin manufacture, but were all made by Messrs. Seymour & Webster, of this city, the most extensive manufacturers of cooperage in the State.

PERSONAL.—Prof. Shotwell, well known throughout the country as a teacher of vocal music, has commenced the instruction of a large class of children in this city preparatory to giving a grand vocal and instrumental concert. He has given concerts in St. Paul, Minneapolis and other places in this State with good success, and we feel confident that our citizens will give him a hearty welcome. Further particulars will be given in our next issue.

Mr. P. C. Johnson, a former resident of our city, has just returned from Central City, Colorado Territory, where he has been residing for two years past. He represents the Territory in a flourishing condition and mining prospects promising. We are indebted to Mr. Johnson for specimens of Colorado minerals.

The Gravie Egg. Tenor Solo. My Husband's Days. Bass Song.

Tribute to Eliza. Solo and Quartette.

Chorus. Come, Fairies All. Quartette.

Call John. Quartette.

The Recruits. Solo.

The Messenger Bird. Duet.

Battle-Cry of Freedom. Song and Chorus.

I'm Afraid I'm Afraid. Solo.

We'll go down ourselves. Song & Chorus.

As Free, as Free. Quartette.

Anti Tobacco. Chorus.

The Vacant Chair. Solo and Chorus.

Money's A'ful Tight. Duet.

Song of the Mountain Boy. Solo.

STEAMBOAT BUILDING IN STILLWATER.—Steamboat building in Stillwater is a new feature, but a nice little craft is being constructed by Capt. Gray, just above McCusick's mills, which will be ready for a launch in a few weeks. Captain Gray is building this vessel for towing purposes for the present season, when a cabin will be placed upon her and she will be put in the St. Croix trade as a regular packet. The boat is 107 feet in length, with 19 feet breadth. She will have two high pressure engines, three feet stroke, thirteen inch bore. The engines will be sufficiently powerful to tow the largest rats. When she gets her cabin on her will be a little beauty. She is being constructed with special reference to speed and power.

Capt. Gray expects to have the boat finished by the 15th of May. The Captain deserves success for his energy and untiring perseverance in steamboat enterprises. This will increase his stock to three boats.

The carpenter work is being superintended by Mr. Donald McLeod, an experienced boat-builder.

Hon. D. A. Secombe, of St. Anthony, has been appointed Provost Marshal for this Congressional district. An excellent appointment.

The Saint Croix Boom Corporation will make application to the Probate Court for the season of 1865 of ten cents per 1,000 feet for all logs driven to their booms, making in all nearly 1,000 barrels.

The average price paid per pound, dressed, 8-1/2¢, or in round numbers, 53 cents making $21,600.00, or the price paid for the bacon of this weight, 10-1/2¢, per pound, making $22,800.00.

The amount of lard rendered by all the packers was 58,735 lbs., or about 223 hogs, of 224 lbs. each. The average yield of lard from each hog is about 17.1 lbs., equal to about one-eleventh, or nine per cent, of dressed weight.

The Press gives some other interesting statistics of the rise and progress of the pork-packing business of St. Paul, but our design being, more particularly, to show the fact that our sister city has no advantage over Stillwater in this branch of trade. Messrs. Seymour & Webster, contractors for the State Prison labor, and extensive manufacturers of cooperage, have furnished us with a list of their scales of barrels to the packers in the city between the opening and close of the present season, as follows:

NUMBER OF BARRELS SOLD TO
Hersey, Staples & Hall, 650

Armstrong & Cover, 45

Julius Brunswick, 40

Westing & Torina, 60

Total, 1,058

Making over fifty barrels more than was packed in St. Paul. This amount does not include the number sold to "other dealers," which would swell the aggregate to over eleven hundred barrels.

There is one other item in the Press article which, in justice to our city and its manufacturers, should be placed right on the record. We quote:

"Some difficulty was experienced the past two seasons by our dealers in procuring good barrels to pack their pork. That difficulty, we are glad to say, is being obviated. The market has been tolerably well supplied with packing barrels the past winter, at an average price of 14¢ per barrel, the load, and for No. 2, or $1.30-$1.35. The No. 1, best seasoned barrels, we regret to say, are of Wisconsin manufacture and are imported here from counties adjoining the St. Croix and Mississippi rivers. Our Minnesota Cooperers should remedy this as soon as possible."

The Press no doubt was inadvertently led into the error contained in the above statement. The truth is, the "St. Croix" barrels alluded to were not of Wisconsin manufacture, but were all made by Messrs. Seymour & Webster, of this city, the most extensive manufacturers of cooperage in the State.

He has had no training. And it has killed him and made him a worthless young man.

And who is the other young man who has come down to twenty-five? His father died in the poor-house, and he ran away from it when he was eight years old. A good start in life! His clothes were rags. He had as many windows in them as there were in the factory where they were made.

the same is hereby repealed.

Approved, March 6th, 1863.

MCCLELLAN.

From the Chicago Tribune.

A long period has elapsed since the finding of the sham splendor of McClellan. It seems an ungracious task to refer to the stripped and barren General, who stands, with his Boston sword in his hand, as the sole relic of his military grandeur.

Yet there is involved in the matter a spirit due to others. There are others who are willing to be employed by him and his friends to help him out of his misadventures which the friends of McClellan, most liberally baptemized them.

There are two men. One has come on the path of good things. He is a nice young man! He is the mother's darling and the father's pride! His hands are lily white and beautiful! The other is all scarred by the rough usage that he has undergone and the very severe experience that he has passed through.

He is twenty. He is the son of a man who is a member of the great law firm of McClellan, and he has been a favorite of the firm.

STILLWATER MESSENGER.

A. J. VAN VORHES, EDITOR

STILLWATER:

Tuesday, April 14, 1863.

SETTLE UP! SETTLE UP!

As we expect in a few weeks to enter the Government service, a settlement of all outstanding accounts with the MESSENGER OFFICE is absolutely indispensable. REDEMPTION MUST BE MADE AT ONCE. Those who have a distance must remit immediately. The Messenger will continue as heretofore, but outstanding accounts must be adjusted at once. The call is imperative.

The City Election.

The city election last Tuesday resulted more favorably to the Republicans than we anticipated it would when we went to press. Of the various offices filled, we secured one member of the Council and the Recorder, two Justices of the Peace and one Constable—while between the two candidates for Treasurer there is a tie, which will be decided by the city council by casting lots.

With anything like an organization on the part of the Republicans, we could have carried the entire ticket by a handsome majority—notwithstanding the large number of Republicans absent in the field. The Democrats effected a thorough organization in their secret lodges before the Republicans even dreamed of a party contest. Hence, all of their voters were out, and worked as diligently as if their hopes of reaching Heaven depended upon their faithfulness in carrying out the plan adopted in the secret sessions of the Knights of the Golden Circle. The Republicans have learned a valuable lesson, however, and that is not to trust Democratic professors of "no partisanship in city elections." They played upon a "harp of a thousand strings" one year ago, and thereby secured a division of the offices. This year they went for Democratic strategy with the hope of securing all. As will be seen, their majorities, where they secured majorities, are very meagre. The following is the entire vote, which, as will be seen, is very light:

How the George Griswold Donation was Distributed.

The following account from the London correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer of the manner in which 15,000 barrels of flour, sent from New York for the relief of the starving operatives of Lancashire was distributed, is a striking illustration of a prominent British characteristic. This gift was the generous offering of a free people to their suffering brothers; but the aristocratic British nob who idea of charity is to throw hot copper at a scrabbling mob of mendicants, must interfere as almoner of the bounty, to convert what was intended as a fraternal gift into an ostentatious aim to paupers. The account is as follows:

It appears that a meeting of the operatives had been called for Tuesday, and it was announced that Rev. C. W. Dennison, Chaplain of the George Griswold, would be present. This was all very well, and the Manchester operatives would gladly have listened to an address from the gentleman. But the manager of the meeting, very ill-advisedly, also announced that on the occasion fifteen thousand loaves of bread would be distributed, composed of the flour brought by the George Griswold, and representing the number of barrels of the staff of life that composed her cargo. This is a purely English way of doing things. In the very disbursement of charity there must be a fuss about it. They overlooked the fact that while the Manchester operatives would have thankfully participated in the American contribution, when presented to them in a proper manner, they were still men and women enough to resent the idea of being paraded like so many paupers, and hence each with a loaf of bread under their arms.

The managers may have meant well enough, but were sadly mistaken in their policy. Possibly, however, if let alone, the operatives would have submitted to this public system of charity, but it was too good an opportunity for the Liverpool secessionists to lose. Taking advantage of the circumstances, their emissaries were sent down among the Manchester masses, and the result was that when the hour for the meeting arrived, instead of an anxious and grateful assemblage of men and women, there was only an excited and almost an infurated crowd.

It is no pleasure to us to discuss, even after others have dug up, the errors and blunders of the campaigns that have become a part of our national history. We may spare you the details, but the facts, for which I have no comment.

The Election.

In Connecticut the Union ticket, with Gov. Buckingham at the head, is elected by about three thousand majority. The Union men have fifteen out of twenty-one Senators at large, and a majority in the House.

In the municipal and county elections in Indiana and Michigan, the Union ticket has triumphed with increased majorities. This is strong rebuke to those vile Democrats who endeavored to foist up the people, and place in power the opponents of the Government.

Vicksburg.

Nothing definite has yet been received from Vicksburg, except that it is not yet taken. Correspondents exhort the country to have patience—that Vicksburg will be taken. The people have manifested patience, and knowing that it is a mammoth undertaking they will probably continue to exercise patience; but we fear that this cardinal Christian grace of the part of the people will not accomplish the great work. Yet we do not despair. Vicksburg must and will be taken—if not under Rosecrans, then by some other General. Charleston and Vicksburg must fall before peace will dawn. Have patience!

A Good Mail Arrangement.

When the present St. Paul Postmaster, Charles Nichols, Esq., took possession of that office two years ago, he found the postal arrangements throughout our entire State in a most deranged condition. He immediately set about correcting the defective system—making it a subject of constant study, and applying personally to the Department at Washington, time after time, until he now got the mail arrangements of our State as nearly perfect as they well can be. It was through the exertions of Mr. Nichols, in connection with the Postmaster at this place, that our eastern winter mails were transferred from the St. Paul route to that of the Mississippi River. Our citizens will remember that for three or four years the Chicago D. P. O. persisted in sending our mails by this route, and how they would come stringing along, often days behind time, and not unfrequently an entire week's mails received at once, and then frequently in a damaged condition, on account of the dangerous crossings of the streams, &c.

Mr. Nichols has just effected another arrangement by which the New York mails to and from this place will be carried on the steamer which now goes up the Hudson River. This arrangement will be of great service, and will be of great benefit to us.

By the courtesy of the Superintendent of the New York City P. O., I have made the arrangement to have your letters sent in our St. Paul bag, along with distribution to New York, and the steamer which now goes up the Hudson River, Connecticut, and all foreign (old country) letters, which you put in the St. Paul bag. This arrangement will be of great service, and will be of great benefit to us.

The people of the entire State are indebted to Mr. Nichols for the many reforms he has already brought about. Our postal system in Minnesota has never before been in so satisfactory condition, and to him are the people indebted for the change.

Conduct of the War—Report Thereon.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The almost unconquerable patience manifested by the President in his intercourse with McClellan—his forgiveness of that General's blunders, timidity, want of decision, shamelessness in framing excuses for inaction, and positive disobedience of emphatic orders—will, while increasing respect for the kindly traits of Mr. Lincoln's character, cause a sense of regret on the part of those who read the report of the War Committee on the Conduct of the War, that he had not, when the President Bodkin commenced his inglorious career, a little of that hardness of nerve and inflexibility of purpose that has since required. But all who are disposed to complain of the leniency this report shows—leniency that had such momentous consequences—must remember the difficulties of the situation and the impossibility of instantly dismissing the popular favorite, without causing a ferment and a deep seated dissatisfaction in the popular mind, which in their ultimate consequences, would have been more dangerous to the cause than the defeats to which McClellan was at last forced to yield.

A powerful but not unconditionally loyal party had rallied around him as the tool by which their partisan, not patriotic, purposes were to be worked out. The prestige of youth, and a campaign in Western Virginia, in which others did the work for which he got the praise, had commended him to popular favor. He was the representative of the West Point interest and influence in the army; and it is not too much to say that when he assumed command at Washington, he was the centre of the Nation's hopes. Thus embodying in himself the promise of much that was good, and the capability of much that was bad, is it not wonderful, in dealing with him, that the President, impelled by kindness and the fear of misadventure, should have been ten times more tolerant than a less cautious or a bolder man could have been, under the aggravations to removal to lie everywhere along McClellan's career.

There is another feature in the affair not less remarkable; and that is, the soundness of the military opinions that Mr. Lincoln recorded in the letters and orders that the inquiry of the Committee brought to light. He was all the while opposed to inaction, and in favor of the most vigorous measures, and the hardest blows; but, silenced by specious statements that he dared not undertake, with his knowledge of military affairs, to question, he remained silent and tame to the last. He disapproved of the Peninsular campaign; and in an unanswerable letter to General McClellan, set forth its disadvantages in a way that is now proved prophetic, but overruled by a general who was called at his own suggestion to give in and the campaign was inaugurated. During the operations of the Peninsula, he did not fail to urge celerity of movement, and also promptness of action; but complaints of this thing, and that, all unfounded and baseless, were always sent in reply to his entreaties. Nothing but his positive command, from which he would not recede, though twenty times importuned, kept men enough before Washington to save the Capital from capture by Jackson, at the time of that General's raid into the Valley of the Shenandoah.

And he had notions of what the campaign should be, even carried out to Antietam, Richmond could have fallen into his hands, horses, baggage, and all, had not McClellan, falsely urged, as though all of these things the army had enough—served to gain it if not justify delay; and as Mr. Lincoln feared, the enemy escaped.

In all the correspondence, and to the end, he had notions of what the campaign should be, even carried out to Antietam, Richmond could have fallen into his hands, horses, baggage, and all, had not McClellan, falsely urged, as though all of these things the army had enough—served to gain it if not justify delay; and as Mr. Lincoln feared, the enemy escaped.

Local and Miscellaneous Intelligence.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All my subscribers, whose subscriptions do not expire on or before the 22d day of April will receive their papers and magazines of Martin Johnson.

HENRY C. VAN VORHES.

FIRST BOAT THROUGH THE LAKE.—The first boat through Lake St. Croix the present season was our local packet, H. S. Allen. The Allen left this place on last Tuesday, the 14th, and went through without difficulty. Heavier and more powerful boats could have gone through several days earlier. Since that time the Allen and Enterprise have made regular trips from Prescott to Taylor Falls.

The first boat from below at this point was the Northern Belle, of the Davidson line, on Friday evening the 17th at 12 o'clock.

All of the boats come heavily freighted.

PROF. PERKINS' CONCERT.—After being surprised with bell ringers, traveling concerts, &c., &c., of rather an inferior grade, the concert by Prof. Perkins and his assistants last Tuesday evening afforded our citizens a very happy transition from the ridiculous to the sublime—from impositions, under the head of entertainments, to a soul-feast of true excellence. Our people should feel an especial pride in the complete success of Tuesday evening, for the reason that the troupe is made up from among our own citizens. The programs were well arranged; and excepting, perhaps, the entertainments heretofore given by the Bakers, it was the best concert ever given in this city. "What are the Wild Waves Saying?" "Brave boys are they," "My Mountain Home," "Tribute to Ellsworth," "Call John," "The Messenger Bird," "Battle-Cry of Freedom," "We'll go down ourselves," "The Vacant Chair," and "Song of the Mountain Boy" were rendered with peculiar beauty and effect. We but reflect the desire of the audience present when we express the hope that this troupe will consent to again appear before a Stillwater audience.

The concert of Tuesday evening will be repeated at Taylor Falls on Thursday evening, by special request of a number of citizens of that place, and probably at Marine on Friday evening of the present week.

At no time during the past five years have laborers been so scarce as now—Farmers have great difficulty in securing sufficient help to prepare for spring crops. Wages are consequently high. This scarcity is an account of the increased amount of land being sown rather than a scarcity of men. River drivers are comanding the old prices again.

Sergeant Sam. Bloomer, of the Minnesota First, who lost his right leg in the battle of Antietam, left yesterday for Philadelphia, whither he goes to get his lost limb replaced by the improved ones. As an appreciation of the worth of this gallant soldier, our citizens a few weeks since made up a purse of over three hundred dollars for him. The citizens of St. Paul also contributed something over one hundred dollars—a worthy compliment to a worthy man and gallant soldier. It will be remembered that Sergeant Bloomer was Color Sergeant of the regiment when he fell. All of his numerous friends join in the wish for his safe return.

Mr. J. E. Schlenk is just opening a splendid stock of ready made clothing on the ground floor of the Messenger office building. Schlenk's is the place to go if you want to get fits. See his advertisement.

A raft of logs, under direction of Pilot Rhodes, was started, out on yesterday for the markets below—being the first of the season.

Mr. Duran with a large raft starts tomorrow. A yet but few of the logs have been run out of the streams above.

Geo. C. McNeil, company B, First Minnesota, returned home yesterday, after an absence of near two years in the military service. Mr. McNeil has been sick for near six months and has received his discharge.

GOOD INVESTMENT.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the Clay mill property is for sale. This is a good opportunity for investment.

RENTED.—After an absence of three or four months, our fellow-citizen, Wm. M. Capron, returned a few days since from the East, entirely satisfied with Minnesota. When he left New York a few days since the citizens were enduring snow, slush and ice. At the same time we of Minnesota were enjoying the most beautiful weather. We are indebted to Mr. Capron for late papers.

There is a greater demand in this city for good tenements than at any other period within the past four years. This is a hopeful sign and indicates an increase of business and population.

CITY COUNCIL.—The new City Council assumed the reins of government last Saturday evening. The other officers elected were also qualified and entered upon their respective duties. The marshal and other officers subject to appointment have not yet been acted upon.

The case of the Treasurer, in which there was a tie between the Republican and Democratic candidates, was decided by lot by the parties themselves. Mr. Doe, the Republican candidate, was the fortunate man.

SCALY.—On the evening of Prof. Perkins' concert [Tuesday] some scamp appropriated a horse and buggy near the Myrtle Street Church, belonging to Rev. W. T. Boutwell. On the following morning the horse returned, minus buggy and harness, looking much the worse for the previous evening's entertainment. After a search of several days Mr. Boutwell found his buggy and harness continued in the brush a few miles south of White Bear Lake. The scamp who played the prank ought to be sent over the lines to Dixie.

PROF. SHOTWELL'S JUVENILE CONCERT AT THE MYRTLE STREET CHURCH WAS WELL ATTENDED LAST THURSDAY EVENING. THE AUDIENCE WAS LARGE, THE ROOM FINELY DECORATED, AND THE CHILDREN LOOKED VERY PRETTY.

WOODBURY.—The following are the officers chosen for the town of Woodbury at the late election. Supervisors—John Anderson, John Sloan, J. M. Nipoldt; Clerk—Evence Ayers; Treasurer—James Middleton; Assessors—J. P. Rhein; Justice of the Peace—P. F. Gage; Constable—C. W. Pierce.

THE FRIENDS OF BRIGADIER GENERAL SIBLEY, OF ST. PAUL, PRESENTED THAT GENTLEMAN WITH A FINE HORSE A FEW DAYS SINCE.

HON. DAVID LEATHON, OF ST. ANTHONY, HAS RECEIVED THE APPOINTMENT OF COLLECTOR FOR THE PORT OF PORT ROYAL.
